The Programme To-Day.—The $500

race to be Run for in a Two

Mile Race.—The Best

Day of the Week

The weather Wednesday night assumed an ugly character, and yesterday morning the public felt certain there would be rain during the day, which fact may have prevented many persons from attending. But notwithstanding this, every train coming over the different roads was densely packed, and the accommodation train from this city over the R. & A. L. Road was crowded to overflow throughout the morning, while the omnibuses, carriages and all manner of vehicles between Raileigh and the grounds had all they could do. By 11 o'clock the grounds were well crowded, and although a cold rain commenced falling the crowd continued moving from point to point examining the different departments, Floral Hall being the chief attraction for the ladies, and a walk through here evidenced the fact that North Carolina had sent to this Fair, in the person of the ladies present, an amount of beauty that could not be surpassed anywhere else in the world.

At 12 o'clock the racing commenced, the Grand Stand was filled with eager spectators, and several hours were thus enjoyed by the thousands who are fond of this sport.

It is safely estimated that 10,000 persons were present on the grounds during the day, and this number would have been larger by several thousand but for the threatening weather.

The Fair throughout has been a splendid success, and reflects great upon its able management.

The representatives from the Virginia State Fair and from the Norfolk and Petersburg Boards of Trade were yesterday under the special charge of the officers of the Society, and express themselves as being well pleased with what they have seen of our people and North Carolina products and manufactures.

We continue this morning writing up the different departments.

MACHINERY HALL.

In Machinery Hall we have the grandest display of machinery ever made in the State, which good judges say equals any show of the kind in the United States. There are no less than twelve Steam Engines running, and seven Cotton Gins, &c.

Beginning at the west end, we first find a circular sawmill driven from the line shaft, exhibited by the Lane

Manufacturing Company, of Montpelier, Vt. The Beasley Power Cotton Press of Tappay & Steele, of Petersburg, Va., comes next. We learn that this press took the first premium at the St. Louis Fair during the past week, a high compliment to South-exhibited by W. A. Smith, of Concord, N. C.

Wm. Sorrell, of Carey, in our own county of Wake, sends up the Cary

Cotton gin. This is a fifty saw gin of strong and substantial home manufacture.

The gigantic Cardwell Thresher and Cleaner, running by steam power, made in Richmond, and exhibited by Mr. Hege, of Salem, was the object of much curiosity.

Next we find the Bookwalter engines, of 4 horse power, and the Bigelow Vertical, of four horse power, shown by Geo. Allen & Co., of Newbern.

The sweepstakes thresher and separator, driven by the Cary mounted horse power is truly immense in size and admirable in workmanship. The buckeye reaper with dropping attachment, the buckeye reaper with table rake attachment (in operation) and show its style of labor, and the buckeye mower, all of the above from the sweepstakes thresher are from Aultman & Co., of Canton, Ohio, are exhibited by Joshua Thomas, 53

Leigh st., Baltimore, Md. Mr. T.

also shows the eclipse portable steam engine of eight horse power, on wheels, for gins, &c.

Now we have the Farmer's Favorite grain drill, the Wisner's Self-

Dumping rake, the Cornell corn sheller, the Buckeye cider mill, the Van Wicker grain fan, all exhibited by H. P. Underhill, of Baltimore, Md. The first two of these are very interesting specimens of machines, and will be referred to at length elsewhere.

The Kendall Hand Shingle machine, the Old Dominion wire and cider mill, Smith's patent straw cutter, and the Southern corn sheller of the same firm, of Richmond, Va., and the Queen thresher and separator by the same firm.

Farmer's Tobacco Packer, for packing smoking tobacco, is a good thing, and deserves notice. Among the curiosities of this department also, is a Stone Force Pump, of J. C. Nichols

& Bro., of Atlanta, made entirely of stone moulded from the pulverized granite, and glazed within. It is both a suction and force pump.

The Remington Agricultural Co.

show some handsome steel plows.

Beyond the hall proper is a large show of agricultural implements of every description, which we hope to be able to mention more at length than our space now allows. We again repeat the expression of satisfaction with this department. Such excellence has never been approached here before, and we thank our friends at home and abroad who have contributed so handsomely to the success of our Fair.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

Floral Hall has received a number of additions since our first report.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

NOON DISPATCHES.

Election News.
COLUMBUS, O. Oct. 14.—Hon. Hendrick B. Wright, Chairman State Convention, Philadelphia: "The State has gone for Hayes by a small majority, the returns indicate that the Democracy polled a vote of 300,000, the largest that was ever cast for any man elected Governor of Ohio. Our defeat was the result of the most lavish expenditure of money which ever characterized a political contest, the colonization of fraudulent voters, and the introduction of the false issue on the public schools which excited the prejudice and bigotry of religious hate. Signed, J. G. Thompson, Chairman for the Democratic Committee."

COLUMBUS, O. Oct. 14.—To the Chairman of the Republican Central State Committee, Philadelphia: "The dispatch of John G. Thompson, Chairman of the Ohio Democratic Committee, of this date, to the Chairman of the Pennsylvania Democratic Committee, so far as it relates to frauds perpetrated and lavish expenditure of money by the Republicans of this State is a falsehood, and he knew it when he signed it. Signed, A. T. Hickoff, Chairman."

There is still intense excitement here over the election news, and much figuring is being done. The Democrats do not expect to dissipate the majority entirely, but claim that it will be very small. The Republicans figure very close, but still rely on several thousand majority.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 14.—Coughogga county full. Hayes' majority is 6,464, gain 3,763.

Foreign.
PARIS, Oct. 14.—The Moniteur says the Government has decided that it is not entitled to directly intervene in the Turkish affairs, but will raise the question of guarantees of loans of the Turkish Government through its diplomatic agents.

Four hundred Carlists, belonging to the Castilian band, were interned at Tarbes.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The Reuters Telegram Company has received a dispatch from Shanghai stating that a newspaper of that city asserts that Minister Wade is expected there shortly. The intelligence is not authenticated. News has been received here announcing the death of Berger, the famous ball player.

Miscellaneous Items.
NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Strass, Latham & Co., dry goods merchants, have failed. Made general assignments. Liabilities half a million.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 14.—Martindale & Holloway have purchased the Indianapolis Journal. E. W. Hatford assumes managing editorship.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Private dispatches from Cincinnati say returns from that city show that Hayes has two thousand (2,000) behind.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—F. P. Marsh, so long known as ticket agent and telegraph manager at the New York Hotel, has been appointed general Eastern passenger agent at New Orleans, St. Louis and Chicago Railway Co.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—A telegram has been received here from an official source that the Mississippi promise of a compromise of difficulties in that State between the Republicans and Democrats, having regard, it is supposed, to the approaching election, and to secure peace at the polls.

Annual Convention of the Railroad Managers and Superintendents.
CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—At the annual convention of the railroad managers and superintendents, nearly all roads were represented. The schedule committee recommended the schedule of last winter with few alterations, and adopted the tables to go into operation Nov. 2nd. No road will be allowed to run passenger trains faster than laid down in the schedule. The special committee on the late Saratoga convention to arrange passenger rates met, but failing to agree, adjourned to meet at Philadelphia on a call of the Chairman.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.
THE OHIO ELECTION.
The Republican Majority Not More than 5,000.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 14.—The following bulletin at the Graphic office: Returns from 75 counties give net Republican gain of 2,000, and in 13 counties yet to be heard from are such as to inspire more doubt than hope.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 14.—After very carefully figuring, A. T. Wickoff, chairman Republican State Committee, states that sixty-four counties now reported give 10,007 majority for Hayes. Twenty counties not heard from gave a Democratic majority of 5,271 in 1873. Democrats here claim a gain of 142 in 10 of these counties and Republicans gain one thousand 4 of them. This would leave a net majority of 493 for Hayes. Democrats concede state to Republicans.

The Cincinnati Times-Columbus special says: All the returns are in except from two counties. If these two poll the same votes as in 1873, Hayes will have 4300 majority. The Chairman of Democratic Committee says if Hayes is not elected by over 4,000 majority and the Democrats get either branch of the General Assembly, he proposes to contest Hayes election on ground of fraud in Cuyahoga county.

Miscellaneous Items.
Bismarck is unwell, and will not accompany the Emperor to Italy.
Asher & Reddick, dealers in lace goods, New York City, have suspended. Liabilities $70,000.

The Legro who killed Sam Garner, in Murray county, Ga., a few days ago, was Wednesday night taken from the guard at Spring Place by disguised men and hung.

A committee composed equally of white and colored citizens of Coahoma county, Arkansas, have issued a circular invoking the efforts of all good citizens in behalf of peace and the preservation of private property.

Crop Reports.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 16.—The New Orleans department says of the crops in Tennessee the damage by storm has been slight. In a few cases the damage by rain reported, straining and destroying the cotton. In Alabama much damage has been done by storms and rust. Our correspondents do not give us many figures on the subject, but we estimate from what we have that the crop has been damaged at least ten per cent. by the weather since August 20th, and particularly by great storms. Damage was greatest in low lands which were submerged by rain fall. In Tennessee being commenced about Sept. 20th. In Alabama about 10th, although in neither State did it begin fully before September 20th. It is progressing slowly. Where swain mainly to wet weather, with frost at same time as last year. The yield in Tenn. will be about same. The acreage is somewhat reduced, but the yield per acre increased this year. In Alabama, the acreage is about ten per cent. less. The crop in both States in this department is greatly dependent upon the weather for the next five or six weeks. If there is a fair season and late frost, the crop will be above an average; with an early killing frost it will fall 25 per cent. below. The crop is about two weeks later than usual and picking has progressed very slowly up to this date owing to wet weather, while an amount of labor in the river counties of Alabama has been curtailed by the great amount of sickness prevailing at this time.

Jerome Park Races.
JEROME PARK, Oct. 14.—First race, mile, dash, all ages, leader winner, Joe B. Second, Century third—time 1:40. Second race, 1 1/2 mile dash, Shylock winner, Counties second, Artillery third—time 2:09. Third race, 4 miles, Aaron Pennibon winner, Nettie Morton second, Willie Burke third. Fourth race, free handicap, 1 1/2 mile, Rhoda Mauthier winner, Egypt second, Walter W. third—time 2:01.

Foreign.
LONDON, Oct. 14.—A special to the Pall Mall Gazette from Berlin says: Under pressure of the Great Powers Turkey is diminishing her troops on the Serbian frontier, Serbia is demolishing her forces.

A clever man once said of Mr. Alexander H. Rice, the Republican nominee for Governor of Massachusetts: "He has the finest principles and the most determination for a man who wouldn't hurt a fly, of any person I ever met."

George Francis Train parts company with his friend Dr. Miller on the question of spiritualism. "Psychology carries me forward, astrology carries me backward," he says. He will have none of spiritualism.

Alice Vane—the Girl who Married for Money.
Tom, Evans, the correspondent of the Victorian Herald gets off the following which will be read with interest by the general reader:

Old John Jenkins is eighty six years old, is worth two hundred thousand dollars, and has buried two wives. He was recently married to Alice vane, a young maiden of eighteen, and she is the prettiest, and the handsomest of six daughters. It happened that this wise Mr. Vane and family have always moved in the best style, and the girls all dressed in fine silk, but the ladies quite tending, and times looked awful like for the Vane's, when Mrs. Vane spread a net which old man Jenkins waited into, she knew the old man, like Mr. Tupman, was weak about women, and so invitations commenced going for "Mr. Jenkins to come up to tea," and on such occasions Alice came and tried to get her prettier, and appear so fond of him, which struck in beautifully, and soon had the old gentleman in a dog trot every evening to see the Vane's, and no other place looked so much like home. Mrs. Vane and Alice and he frequently took rides together, and one day riding out, Mrs. Vane laughed and told the old man she wished to marry him, for five hundred dollars; he asked her what security she'd give him, and with a mischievous smile she replied, "why, Alice, there, isn't she security enough?"

The old man began to chuckle, and it was the evening of the night they were married that the news leaked out to one of John's relations that Alice was going to marry Alice Vane. He went right over to see him and bearded the lion in his den, making plain the whole plot to him, and telling him the girl was only a fortune teller, and the old man in his childhood had been with him, and he had a little patience, and answered in rage, "Tain't so, tain't so; she's a pretty girl, I might fond of me, and won't be happy without me, and the old man met the preacher that evening and told him that he wanted him to marry a couple that night, and sure enough about eight o'clock the carriage pulled around, and the preacher got in, not knowing exactly where it would carry him, but having his own notions about it. It landed him at the residence, and going in the front door, he found the bride and groom, with one or two home friends, and old man John sat up in his every day clothes, dressed no more for a marriage than he was for a log killing, but still he was there for that purpose. Everything was now ready, and one of the home friends stepped over and told the old man to come up to the table where set Mr. and Mrs. Vane, and sign the marriage contract, setting seventy thousand dollars on Alice. The old man couldn't see this. It raised his blood, and he replied quite angrily: "I'll sign no such thing; you want the girl to marry me for my money, do you? Here was a daughter, and one of the friends stepped to the family, and he said: 'get her downer, a third of the two hundred thousand,' and so the ceremony went on, and the lovely young maiden, dressed like a fairy queen, dropped as a blushing bride into the basket of the old man John's affections. But now to the consequences. The old man follows all such sweets of fortune with the bitter at the cup's bottom. Alice Vane lives in the finest house in town; she has all that money can give.

But the neighbors talk. Many of the wealthy won't visit her. They say, "Let that young girl take care she don't die yet before old man Jenkins; he has already buried two wives."

And once when the whole family of Vane's kept coming to the old man's house, staying with their daughter, old Jenkins told them: "You all must stay at your own house, I ain't goin' to stand it!" "Well sir, replied Mr. Vane, rather proudly, "I'll take Alice back home, then." "Take her home, take her home," cried the old man, peevishly. "She ain't a bit of use to me, anyhow!"

All this is the fruits of money, and one-third of the actors on both sides high up in the church fashionable members. Let's read the prayer of the wise man, "Give me neither riches nor poverty; feed me with food convenient for me."
